

- A $2.75 million settlement of a class race and national origin suit against Pacific Maritime Association and the International Longshore and Warehouse Union, Local 13, of California. The suit alleged that the use of a Test of Adult Basic Education to screen applicants for employment as casual longshore workers had a disparate impact on African-Americans, Hispanics, and Asians.