

- A $144,000 settlement of a religious discrimination suit against Servicemaster Aviation and Delta Airlines in Georgia. The suit alleged that the companies failed to accommodate the religious beliefs of six workers of the Islamic faith who refused to cut their beards - which they wore for religious reasons.