STATEMENT OF CLAIMS

10. All conditions precedent to the institution of this lawsuit have been fulfilled.

11. Since at least March, 2002, Defendant Employers have engaged in unlawful employment practices at the Baltimore Pallet Masters facility, in violation of Sections 703(a) of Title VII, 42 U.S.C. Section 2000e-2. The practices include the following:

a. Subjecting Lisa Rager to a hostile and offensive work environment by condoning the sexually harassing and discriminating behavior of Ms. Rager's supervisor, William Seibert. Incidents of harassment committed by Seibert and condoned by Defendants include, but are not limited to, grabbing Ms. Rager from behind while she was operating an electric saw; touching Ms. Rager inappropriately when he spoke with her, such as by putting his arm around her, pulling her close to him, and brushing up against her; slapping her on the behind; asking her to go to a strip bar with him during their lunch hour; insisting that she give him a key to the bathroom she used exclusively; banging on the door and jiggling the knob while she was using the bathroom; calling her demeaning names, such as "baby" and "honey"; and making inappropriate comments, such as telling her that she was his "girl," asking her, "Are you going to be my baby?", "Do you want to be my honey?" and "When are we going to go out?"

b. Deliberately creating intolerable working conditions for Lisa Rager by subjecting her to verbal and physical harassment, degradation, humiliation, and unsafe working conditions, and by ignoring her complaints about her supervisor's harassing conduct, all on the basis of her gender, and all of which resulted in her constructive discharge.

12. The unlawful employment practices complained of above were intentional.

13. The unlawful employment practices complained of above were done with malice or with reckless indifference to the federally protected rights of Lisa Rager.

C. Grant such further injunctive relief as the Court deems proper.

With regard to Defendant Prolease HR, Inc., the Commission respectfully requests that this Court:

B. Order Defendant to make whole Lisa Rager by providing compensation for pecuniary and nonpecuniary losses, including emotional pain, suffering, anxiety, depression, embarrassment, degradation, and humiliation;

C. Order Defendant to pay to Lisa Rager punitive damages for its callous indifference to her federally protected right to be free from gender discrimination;

D. Grant such further monetary relief as the Court deems proper; and

E. Award the Commission its costs in this action.
