

In EEOC v. Heil Trailer Int'l, the Commission alleged that a trailer manufacturer failed to hire female applicants for entry level factory positions and otherwise assigned, segregated and limited the job opportunities of female employees because of their sex. The company agreed to provide $250,000 to women harmed by these practices.