02/04/2014	327	MINUTES OF Telephone Conference held before Magistrate Judge Patrick J. Walsh:The Court met with the parties on the phone to discuss discovery issues pertaining to Electronically Stored Information (ESI) and the appropriate scope for parties' searches. The parties agree that there are approximately five issues in dispute with respect to the ESI order. No later than Tuesday, February 11, 2014, counsel for Plaintiffs and Defendants (who choose to)are to submit briefs, ten pages or less, addressing each ESI issue in dispute and providing proposed language. The parties may also submit briefs if they so choose. With respect to the search terms, the parties informed the Court that they are not in dispute. There is, however, a dispute about the process, i.e., how the searches are to be conducted, the appropriate custodians, and the entities/branches that should conduct the searches. The Court orders that counsel to Plaintiffs send Defendants' counsel a proposal as to the appropriate scope of the search no later than Tuesday, February 11, 2014. By Tuesday, February 18, 2014, counsel for Plaintiffs and Defendants are to submit briefs to the Court on this issue. Finally, Defendants have requested additional information as to how Plaintiffs currently store their ESI. No later than February 18, 2014, Mr. Smyth and his client's IT personnel are to confer with Defendants' counsel and Defendants. 02/19/2014	333	MINUTES OF Telephone Telephonic Hearing Re: Disputed ESI Issues held before Magistrate Judge Patrick J. Walsh: Case called and appearances made. The Court met with the parties on the telephone to discuss disputes regarding a proposed order on electronically stored information. With respect to the language relating to production of privilege and redaction logs and passwords and encryptions, the Court ordered the parties to use the language proposed by the City of Los Angeles. The Court further ordered that Defendants produce the discovery on a rolling basis, beginning March 14, 2014, and continuing every other Friday until production is complete. Plaintiffs counsel was instructed to let the Court know if there are any issues regarding production. Plaintiffs have requested that Defendants be ordered to create cross reference and load files for the electronically stored information Defendants produce at Defendants' expense. The Court concludes that Defendants have no obligation to create things in discovery. Nevertheless, the Court will require Defendants to create the cross reference and load files if Plaintiffs pay the approximate cost for producing these files prior to Defendants commencing work on them. The Court will not order cost shifting at this time, but will leave the issue on the table for resolution at a later date. The parties may file motions requesting cost shifting after the close of discovery. Both sides are admonished to keep in mind when propounding discovery that they may have to pay the other sides cost of production. Finally, the Court agreed with the individual Defendant owners, without objection from Plaintiff, that the discovery preservation date will be the date of service of the Complaint. 07/10/2014	383	MINUTES OF Telephone Conference held before Magistrate Judge Patrick J. Walsh:Case called and appearances made. During the Court's last status conference, it ordered that the City employ quality assurance but that Plaintiffs pay one-half of the City's costs and fees in performing that step. Plaintiffs now request that the Court set a cap for the total permissible cost for the qualityassurance process, and suggests that $1600, or eight hours of work at $200 per hour, would be a reasonable cap for the Plaintiffs' portion of the costs. The City objects that the total costs are unknown and it should not be limited to a figure upfront. Without further order from the Court, the City may incur up to $5,000 in the quality assurance process, which should represent approximately ten hours of work at the cost of $500 per hour. Per the Courts prior order, Plaintiffs will be responsible for paying half of those costs and fees. Should the City approach the $5,000 limit and find that the quality assurance process is incomplete, it should contact the Court for approval of additional time before incurring further costs.Court Recorder: XTR 7/10/14. 10/30/2014	431	MINUTES OF Telephone Conference held before Magistrate Judge Patrick J. Walsh:Case called and appearances made. The Court held a telephonic hearing to address the following outstanding discovery disputes. First, there is a dispute over the Court's prior order regarding which party is to choose which ofPlaintiffs' opportunity cost witnesses Defendants will depose first. Over Plaintiffs' objection, the Court will allow Defendants to decide the first three witnesses, one from each organization, that they will depose. These depositions are to occur during the month of November. Second, there is a dispute regarding the scope of Plaintiffs' production of documents on theissue of opportunity costs. Having heard argument on this issue, the Court orders both Plaintiffs and Defendants to provide the three best cases to support their understanding of the meaning of opportunity costs and what Plaintiffs have to show on this issue. The Court will then decide whether to order additional production by Plaintiffs. Finally, the Court orders that all production, by both Plaintiffs and Defendants, be complete by December 31, 2014.Court Recorder: XTR 10/30/14. (jy) (Entered: 11/13/2014)
