06/16/1995		ENDORSEMENT granting [189-1] motion in Limine to preclude evidence under FRE 401:Inspection of facilities where discharged members of this class are now housed will not lead to relevant or admissible evidence. If they have been discharged, such that defendants no longer exercise custody or control over them, then the dischargees' present circumstances do not bear on the defendants' fulfilling their legal obligations. If they have been improperly discharged, their entitlement to further treatment, care, and supervision is dependent on the circumstance of their discharge, not the circumstances of their present location (signed by Chief Judge Peter C. Dorsey) (Former Employee) (Entered: 06/16/1995)

06/16/1995		ENDORSEMENT denying [200-1] motion to Extend discovery deadline to 8/1/95: This case is 5 years old. Though efforts to reach an agreement are salutary, the failure to complete preparation for trial--motion paragraphs 6 and 7--suggest the insufficient anticipation of the need to be ready for trial absent an agreement. Put another way, there may well have been an inappropriate delay in seeking agreement. If parties wish to avoid discovery by reaching agreement, they should do so expeditiously and early on.
