05/26/2020	109	LETTER addressed to Magistrate Judge James L. Cott from Jonathan I. Blackman dated May 26, 2020 re: Defendants May 22, 2020 letter opposing Plaintiffs May 14, 2020 letter-motion requesting an informal telephonic conference. Document filed by John Doe, Make the Road New York, New York Immigration Coalition, Sanctuary For Families, The Door, Urban Justice Center..(Blackman, Jonathan) (Entered: 05/26/2020)
05/29/2020	110	ORDER taking under advisement 104 Motion for Conference. The Court has reviewed the parties' submissions and will hold a telephonic conference on June 8 at 2:30 p.m. The parties should call the Court's conference line at (877) 873-8017, Access Code 5277586, at that time. In advance of the conference, and mindful that the parties have previously engaged in discussions to resolve the pending dispute, the Court hereby directs the parties to make one final attempt to meet and confer to see if they can resolve the issues regarding the so-called Challenged Attachments. As guidance for those discussions, the Court share its preliminary views as follows: it appears to the Court that the spirit of Rule 26 as well as the fact that defendants have already identified and reviewed the documents at issue mitigate against their responsiveness argument and weigh in favor of disclosure (although the Court will certainly give counsel for defendants an opportunity at the conference to argue otherwise). The Court also does not think it likely that the Challenged Attachments would be subject to the work product doctrine because it does not appear that they were prepared in anticipation of litigation, but instead part of a FOIA compilation process. The Court would need to be persuaded that "counsel's thought processes in relation to pending or anticipated litigation will be exposed through disclosure" of the Challenged Attachments. In re Grand Jury Subpoena, 318 F.3d 379, 386 (2d Cir. 2003). (Again, the Court will give counsel for defendants an opportunity to contend otherwise at the conference.). However, the attorney-client privilege invocation appears to be a close question and the Court will otherwise plan to focus primarily on this issue at the conference (assuming the parties have not resolved the dispute). Whether the Challenged Attachments could reasonably be characterized as part of confidential communications regarding legal advice on how to respond to certain FOIA requests presents what defendants themselves call a "unique situation." (HEREBY ORDERED by Magistrate Judge James L. Cott)(Text Only Order) (Cott, James) (Entered: 05/29/2020)

06/08/2020	111	ORDER taking under advisement 104 Motion for Conference. As discussed at the conference held today, the Court will hold a further conference to address the parties' discovery disputes with respect to the challenged attachments on June 25 at 2:30 p.m. The parties should use the same call-in number as previously provided. In advance of the conference, defendants are to produce a revised privileged log no later than June 15, and advise plaintiffs of their position with respect to the third party attachments, in light of the protective order and the proposed stipulation discussed at today's conference. The parties are then directed to further meet and confer during the week of June 15 to see if they can resolve some or all of the issues with respect to the challenged attachments. If the parties have been unable to resolve their differences, plaintiffs may submit a supplemental letter to the Court by June 19, and defendants may respond by June 23.
