06/13/2016	39	NOTICE of Motion by Joel A. Flaxman for presentment of motion to vacate 38 before Honorable Edmond E. Chang on 6/16/2016 at 08:30 AM. (Flaxman, Joel) (Entered: 06/13/2016)
06/15/2016	40	MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Plaintiff's motion to vacate Rule 16(b) and Rule 26(a)(2)(C) disclosures 38 is granted, in view of the pending partial dismissal motion and the discovery back/forth cited in the motion. The Court will reset the schedule at the next status hearing. Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 06/15/2016)
06/27/2016	41	MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: After reviewing the briefs on Defendants' motion to dismiss Count 2 25 , the Court denies the motion, though it is a close call. Despite the parties' arguments to the contrary, there is no bright-line rule either way when it comes to adequately alleging Monell claims. The substantive elements of the underlying constitutional right and the particular circumstances of each factual setting will vary too much from case to case for there to be a bright line. Here, proving the methadone-delay claim will require Plaintiff to prove deliberate indifference to that medical need, meaning, that policy makers disregarded a serious risk that there would be a delay in administering methadone till the fourth day of detention (Day Four is the benchmark that Plaintiff focuses on). The 2009-2011 data relied on by Plaintiff show 73 detainees did not get methadone until the fourth day — but many more detainees (1,368 of them) did receive methadone sometime during Days Zero through Tree. And Plaintiff was not detained until 01/20/2014, so the data's usefulness is questionable. But this type of scrutiny of the facts is not for the dismissal-motion stage. So the motion is denied, and Defendants must answer the Amended Complaint by 07/11/2016. Moreover, discovery will proceed to reflect the substantive standard and the need to balance efficiency and proportionality. Specifically, Plaintiff may seek data concerning other detainees on Count 2, but must start with the time period of 09/20/2013 through 01/20/2014. This four-month time period, at least to start, makes sense because Monell requires that the municipality's policy or custom be the moving force to the violation. If discovery does not unearth some evidence of the unlawful policy or custom for the four-month period before Plaintiff's detention, then the discovery will stop. On the other hand, if discovery for this time period shows a reason to keep going, then the time period can be expanded. The motion for HIPAA protective order 28 is granted, in light of the anticipated discovery. The HIPAA order will be entered on the docket separately. At the next status hearing, the Court will set the remainder of the discovery schedule.Emailed notice (Chang, Edmond) (Entered: 06/27/2016)
06/27/2016	42	SECOND Qualified HIPAA Protective Order Signed by the Honorable Edmond E. Chang on 6/27/2016:Emailed notice(slb,) (Entered: 06/27/2016)
06/28/2016	43	MINUTE entry before the Honorable Edmond E. Chang: Status hearing held. Fact discovery, including treating physicians (Rule 26(a)(2)(C) disclosures for any treaters are due no later than 45 days before the close of fact discovery), shall close by 12/05/2016. Any Rule 26(a)(2) expert disclosures (whether retained or not) are due 30 days after the close of fact discovery, and the 30-day deadline is adjusted automatically if the close of fact discovery is adjusted. No summary judgment motions may be filed before the close of discovery without leave of Court. Plaintiff's counsel mentioned the possibility of class-action treatment, but right now the case is alleged as an individual action. Plaintiff may seek leave to amend the complaint, but the parties must bear this in mind for discovery so that the parties are able to brief a motion for class certification after the close of discovery (if the complaint is amended to allege a class). Status hearing set for 08/31/2016 at 9:30 AM.Emailed notice (slb,) (Entered: 06/28/2016)
