

remedy”— would necessarily imply the invalidity of their judgments of conviction and terms of confinement.

Finally, the Court should abstain from entertaining Plaintiffs’ claims at this time. Conditions are dynamic, and constitutional litigation punctuated with court orders on sensitive issues of federalism and the interplay of competing interests, fraught with the threat of contempt, would not serve Plaintiffs, Defendants, or the public interest well.

In support of this Motion, Defendants rely on the following contemporaneously filed documents:

1. Brief in Support of Defendants’ Amended Motion to Dismiss; and,
2. Proposed Order Granting Defendants’ Amended Motion to Dismiss.

For the reasons stated in this Motion and its accompanying documents, Defendants respectfully request that the Court grant this Motion to Dismiss.
