RETURN TO ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE AND POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN OPPOSITION TO PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Come now Cletus J. Fitzharris, Superintendent of the California Correctional Training Facility at Soledad, California, and the People of the State of California, and for a return to the order to show cause heretofore issued in the above entitled matter, and returnable on the 22nd day of November, 1965, state:

That petitioner, Robert Charles Jordan, Jr., is

24

26 properly imprisoned in the California Correctional Training 27

28

29

30

197961, and entitled "The People of the State of California 31

County of Los Angeles, dated April 14, 1958, in action No.

Facility at Soledad, California, pursuant to a valid judgment and commitment of the Superior Court of the State of California, vs. Robert Charles Jordan," which reflects that petitioner was convicted of the felony of violating section 245 of the California Penal Code. A copy of this judgment is attached hereto, marked "Exhibit A" and incorporated herein by reference.

II

Petitioner's allegations concerning the conditions of his confinement present no federal question since these allegations are unrelated to the legality of his confinement and a determination favorable to him would not result in his immediate release from custody.

III

Petitioner's allegations that state officials have interfered with his constitutional right to reasonable access to the courts does not state a ground for issuance of the federal writ of habeas corpus. This allegation is unrelated to the legality of his confinement and a determination favorable to him would not result in his immediate release from custody.

WHEREFORE, it is prayed that the Order to Show Cause issued on October 27, 1965, by this Court be discharged and the Petition for Habeas Corpus be defied.

Dated: November 22, 1965

THOMAS C. LYNCH, Attorney General of the State of California

DERALD E. GRANBERG,
Deputy Attorney General

Attorneys for Respondents.

l POINTS AND AUTHORITIES 2 Summary of Petitioner's Contentions 3 Petitioner contends that he was denied his constitutional protection against cruel and unusual punishment 4 because of the deplorable conditions under which he was 5 6 confined. 7 Petitioner contends that he was denied his 8 constitutional right to reasonable access to the courts. 9 Summary of Respondent's Argument Petitioner's allegations concerning the conditions 10 of his confinement present no federal question since these 11 allegations are unrelated to the legality of his confinement 12 and a determination favorable to him would not result in his 13 immediate release from custody. 14 15 II. Petitioner's allegations that state officials. have interfered with his constitutional right to reasonable 16 access to the courts does not state a ground for issuance of 17 the federal writ of habeas corpus. This allegation is unrelated 18 to the legality of his confinement and a determination favorable 19 to him would not result in his immediate release from custody. 20 ARGUMENT 21 I 22 PETITIONER'S ALLEGATIONS CONCERNING 23 THE CONDITIONS OF HIS CONFINEMENT PRESENT NO FEDERAL QUESTION SINCE THESE ALLEGATIONS 24 ARE UNRELATED TO THE LEGALITY OF HIS CONFINEMENT AND A DETERMINATION FAVORABLE 25 TO HIM WOULD NOT RESULT IN HIS IMMEDIATE RELEASE FROM CUSTODY 26 The essence of petitioner's contention is that for 27 disciplinary reasons he was placed in a segregation unit at 28 the prison and that the conditions of his confinement in that 29 unit were so deplorable as to constitute a violation of his constitutional protection against cruel and unusual punishment.

In particular, he complains of the lack of heat, the inadequacy of the ventilation, the inadequacy of lighting, the inadequacy of bathing and toilet facilities, and of conditions of general filth in his cell. While petitioner's allegations, if true, might constitute a violation of state law, see California Penal) Code sections 673, 2652, they afford him no basis for relief in a federal habeas corpus proceeding. "The writ of habeas corpus may not be utilized for the purpose of correcting alleged ill-treatment of a petitioner by prison authorities when the prisoner is confined pursuant to a valid commitment." Hodge v. Heinze, 165 F. Supp. 726, 729 (D.C.N.D. Cal. N.D. 1958). In any event conditions of confinement even more deplorable than those alleged by petitioner have been held not to constitute a violation of the federal protection against cruel and unusual punishment. \ Ex part Pickens, 101 F. Supp. 285 (D.C. Alaska 1951).

II

denied his constitutional right to reasonable access to the courts. While the federal guarantee of reasonable access to the courts may be asserted in an injunctive proceeding, see e.g. Hatfield v. Bailleaux, 290 F.2d 632 (9th Cir. 1961), it affords no basis for habeas corpus relief. See the Order filed November 12, 1965, in Zollo v. Dunbar, No. 44240, in which the Honorable George B. Harris of this Court concluded that this issue was not available in a habeas corpus proceeding since it

1	did not bear on the validity of the petitioner's confinement.
2	In any event, the patent invalidity of petitioner's allegation
3	that he has been denied access to the courts is demonstrated
4	by the following listing of litigation in which he has been
5	involved during the past two years. Most of the actions referred
6	to were applications for writs of mandate or for writs of habeas
7	corpus and all of them were resolved adversely to petitioner.
8	For purposes of brevity we refer only to the court, the action
9	number and the date of the decision.
