08/24/2012	109	FINAL ORDER AND JUDGMENT re: 104 Bench Trial – Completed, The Court enters judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against defendants on plaintiffs Fourth Claim for Relief. The Court orders that within 60 days the CDOC, must develop and present to plaintiffs counsel and the Court a plan that ensures that Troy Anderson has access for at least one hour, at least three times per week, to outdoor exercise in an area that is fully outside and that includes overhead access to the elements, e.g., to sunlight, rain, snow and wind, unless inclement weather or disciplinary needs make that impossible. Plaintiff may file objections, if any, to the plan within 21 days. Defendants may reply within 14 days following plaintiffs submission of objections. The Court orders defendants to assign a CDOC physician to take a fresh look at Mr. Andersons medication and treatment needs as set forth in this Order. With that exception, the Court enters judgment in favor of the defendants on plaintiffs Third Claim for Relief. Plaintiff has brought to the Courts attention legitimate concerns about how chronological reporting and administrative reviews have functioned in the past. Administrative Regulation 650-03 has addressed some of those concerns expressly, and it appears to the Court that others are addressed implicitly. In the spirit of giving the new policy and those who will implement it a fair chance, the Court enters judgment in favor of the defendants on plaintiffs First Claim for Relief. The Court enters judgment in favor of the defendants on plaintiffs Fifth and Sixth Claims for Relief. Plaintiffs Second Claim for Relief has been withdrawn. The plaintiff prevailed on the outdoor exercise issue, which was a central focus of the case; the relief ordered will directly and materially benefit Mr. Anderson (and perhaps others). The plaintiff prevailed in obtaining an order that his medical and treatment needs must be looked at afresh by a physician, and that the possibility that he might abuse any particular medication may not trump a decision concerning care he needs based on medical judgment. While the plaintiff did not convince the Court to order the elimination of the chronological reporting system, the plaintiffs expressions of concern about certain things not expressly covered in AR 650-03 have been noted. Accordingly, while both parties prevailed on some claims, the Court finds that the plaintiff is the overall prevailing party for purposes of costs and attorneys fees. Counsel are directed to confer and attempt in good faith to reach agreement on the amount of costs and attorneys fees. If agreement is not reached, then plaintiff will proceed in accord with the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d) and D.C.Colo.LCivR 54.1., by Judge R. Brooke Jackson on 8/24/2012. 10/07/2014	181	ORDER granting 180 Unopposed MOTION for Extension of Time to File Response/Reply as to 178 MOTION to Enforce Judgment and Further Relief or, In The Alternative, For Hearing On Order To Show Cause. The Court strongly urges (1) the parties to engage in mediation with a professional mediator, (2) in that context, the CDOC to counter plaintiff's most recent settlement proposal, and (3) that Mr. Raemisch, in whom personally this Court has substantial confidence, to participate in the mediation. This would, in the Court's view, be a more valuable expenditure of time and resources than the preparation of a response by counsel to the pending motion and another round of litigation in this Court. The plaintiff too must be prepared to discuss reasonable compromises. By Judge R. Brooke Jackson on 10/07/2014. Text Only Entry(rbjsec.) (Entered: 10/07/2014)

The Court is not impressed with what appears to be foot dragging on the defendant's side. The Court will give the CDOC director the benefit of the doubt and assume that counsel's request for additional time implicitly represents that if the additional time is granted, the CDOC will respond substantively, completely and in good faith to the motion, including to the plaintiff's proposals regarding settlement and mediation. If the Court is not assured by December 3, 2014 that this has occurred, it will grant plaintiff's request at paragraph 23(b). By Judge R. Brooke Jackson on 11/12/2014. Text Only Entry(rbjsec.)
