On September 30, 1999, this Court entered an order ruling on several matters then before the Court.

The Court has reviewed footnote 3 on page 13 of that order and is persuaded that footnote 3 may not be deadly accurate. For that reason, footnote 3 on page 13 of this Court's order of September 30, 1999 is stricken.

The following will be substituted in lieu of the now stricken footnote 3. Footnote 3 will now read:

While the size of the cells in the new and/or remodeled Iowa correctional facilities is not part of the evidence in this case, this Court, for the sake of this discussion, takes judicial notice, by reason of personal knowledge that the total square footage at the Mitchellville prison for one person segregation cells is 81 square feet. At Mt. Pleasant Correctional Facility for the women - one-person cells are 59 square feet. The above numbers are, as mentioned, total square feet. To find the "free" space in each cell setting, you must subtract the area taken up by beds, etc., from the total.

For good cause shown, footnote 3 on page 13 of the original order of this Court dated September 30, 1999, is stricken and the
