06/02/2018	61	ORDER denying 60 Motion to Amend/Correct complaint. The plaintiff to the extent he is a member of the class may not file pleadings to modify the complaint as the individual plaintiff Graham and the class are represented by attorneys. Plaintiff may represent himself is a case where he is an individual plaintiff. If a proposed resolution is reached in the case he may file objections if he is a member of the class. If he wishes to sue individually he will need to sue in a separate case and opt out of the class. Any thing he files with the court must leave a one inch margin on all sides. (JBB) (xc: Pro se party by regular mail.) Modified on 6/4/2018 (dt). (Entered: 06/02/2018)

06/18/2018	66	ORDER denying 65 Motion to Amend complaint. For the reasons previously stated in the courts order (Docket Entry 61) the plaintiff may not file pleadings on his own while he is a member of a class action. If he wants to sue on his own then he needs to file a separate lawsuit. Plaintiff needs to leave a one inch margin on anything he files with the court. This is critical at the bottom as the courts filing system prints information in the bottom inch and anything the plaintiff writes there will be overprinted and may not be readable. Counsel for the class should consider if any action should be taken in the case in light of the plaintiffs letter about his medical condition. (JBB) Modified on 6/18/2018 (dt). (Entered: 06/18/2018)
