AFFIDAVIT OF DONNA MARIE COMBRE

Donna Marie Combre, being first duly sworn, says:

I was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana and am 19 years old. My permanent address is 601 Enterprise Boulevard in Lake Charles. I am now attending McNeese State College as a freshman. Sometime around January 22, 1962, my cousin, Robert C. Combre, and I visited the Southwest Louisiana Vocational-Technical School on Kirkman Street in Lake Charles. When we arrived in the late afternoon, we found a large sign in the inside lobby which read something like "No Applications Will Be Accepted Until Further Notice."

We went into the registrar's office and asked a woman there for a bulletin. She said I would have to talk to a counsellor, a Mr. White, whose office was across the hall in Room 102. We went over to Room 102 and asked for Mr. White. A man at the desk told me Mr. White was not in but just then a white man about 55 years old walked in and the man at the desk said he was Mr. White. I asked Mr. White for a bulletin which showed the courses being offered and he said, "We don't have any." I then asked him for an application and he said, "We are not accepting colored - not at all." Those were his words. I told Mr. White "thank you" and Robert and I left.
